NEWSLETTER

FEBRUARY-MARCH 2023 EDITION

President's Report

Hooray! We're back in business. Two month layoff means that you are all ready to get back into serious painting and meeting up with your Wednesday painting friends again. The social contact part of our society's get-togethers is a really important part of our meetings.

I have been encouraged by the responses I've received about the painting lessons I've sent out to you of late. So much so that I have decided to continue sending at least one, if not two, such lessons each month. All that is necessary is for you to click on the blue link in your email and, lo and behold, a new subject to help you grow in your hobby.

I would like to thank Lyn Pieterse for her efforts in putting our Christmas Lunch together. What a great day we had, good food, good friends even a good quiz!

One thing that must be said is how grateful we/I am to the wonderful service rendered over the past several years by our now retired secretary, Jenny Heslehurst. She has been a rock to me and to this society. All I ever had to do was ask and it was done no matter what it was. I'll miss your efforts in the administration of our group and now, at least when you come to art you will sit down, meet up with your art friends and even do some painting. Thank you Jenny, you've been a brick.

That said, I must give a welcome to our new secretary, Angela Delli-Pizzi. Angela has a background in public service.

Another thing that needs mentioning is that our library, under the direction of Vickie Craven, has been updated. Several old works have been disposed of and replaced by more interesting (?) works for your perusal and education. So please have a good look next time you join us and I think you'll find some very interesting publications.

Seems to be enough from me at this time. I'm looking forward to meeting up with you all over the next few weeks.

Also I must give thanks to our sponsors, Club Central, Kookaburra Air Conditioning, At Your Service and Fox Landscaping.

Please, if you have need of any of their services use them, you will not be disappointed in the result and by helping them you are also helping your art society.

Just remember to tell them that you are a member so they will know where the business came from.

Demonstrations

Our demonstrators for the last two meetings have shown us some interesting techniques and new materials to use in conjunction with the usual methods – Amy using Posca Pens to enhance her mullet fish and Marion using wax paper from Cut-Rite.

Please visit their websites to view their galleries of paintings and see details of exhibitions, online tutorials and classes.
